

RUSSIA HANGS
MANY VICTIMS

Disturbances in Several Cities Are Followed by Executions Without Trial.

THE BODIES ARE BURIED AT NIGHT

Soldiers of Moscow Secretly Inter Eighty Bodies of Persons Who Had Died Upon the Gallows Recently.

London, May 26.—The Standard publishes a dispatch from a Russian correspondent, in whom the paper says, it places great confidence, containing most sensational statements regarding the alarming condition of Russia as a result of the war.

The correspondent asserts that disturbances in various cities have been followed by wholesale executions without any civil trial. It is stated that 600 persons have been hanged in Warsaw alone and that many others have been hanged in Cronstadt and Moscow.

At the latter place the troops buried eighty coffins containing the bodies of those who had been hanged. The bodies were buried secretly, in the dead of night, presumably in the woods.

Business Is Paralyzed.

This correspondent asserts that the war has resulted in the utter paralysis of all business and says that even the most sober-minded are drawing ominous conclusions from the significant fact that regiment, stationed in European Russia have been retained in their places and that only reserves have been mobilized for the front.

The Standard, in an editorial, says it publishes this correspondent's statements under all reserve, but it thinks there are many indications, such, for instance, as the sinking of the battleship Orel, that the normal disaffection of the population of Russia has been greatly stimulated by the war.

Gloomy Report From Odessa.

The Odessa correspondent of the Daily Mail writes in a similar tone. He says Russia is profoundly moved. Disquieting reports arrive daily now from Poland, now from Finland, and now from the Caucasus. The catastrophes on sea and land in the far East are producing a remarkable state of tension in the nation.

It is reported from the same source that the Russian artillery in Manchuria is admitted by correspondents at the front to be inadequate against the Japanese, whose strength therein, both as regards efficiency and newness, comes as a disconcerting surprise. Of the 200 guns at Gen. Kouroupatkin's disposal fewer than half are of later date than 1899.

Bombard Port Arthur.

Chefoo, May 26.—A portion of the Japanese fleet bombarded Port Arthur at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. The attack was witnessed by a Frenchman, who says that eight large warships directed before the entrance of Port Arthur harbor for one hour, firing broadsides at intervals of ten minutes.

The German steamer Chefoo was fired on by a Japanese cruiser in Pechili gulf. It misunderstood the signals of the cruiser.

The Swedish steamer Karin also was fired on while off Liaotshuan promontory, but it is not known when this fire came.

Heavy Landing at Takushan. Chinese junks arriving from Takushan, a port lying southwest of Antung, report the landing of 6,000 Japanese troops at Takushan on the 21st inst. Another junk from Pitsawa reports the Japanese landing a small number of troops there every day and building temporary barracks on Elliot Island, where 100 ships, including men-of-war and transports, have made a rendezvous.

Heavy firing was heard in the direction of Port Arthur Tuesday.

TWENTY ARE INJURED IN OHIO TRAIN WRECK

Cut of Freight Cars Breaks Loose and Gets on Track in Front of Passenger Coaches.

East Liverpool, O., May 26.—Twenty persons were injured in a wreck on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh road near here this afternoon. The train had run into freight cars that had broken loose and got on the track. The injured:

Engineer Hendly, East Liverpool; bruised and shoulder hurt.
Fireman Williams, Cleveland; badly crushed in jumping from cab.
H. McKee, conductor, Bellaire; bruised.

Express Messenger Johnson, Cleveland; bruised by safe falling on him.
Mrs. J. A. Cotton, negro teacher from North Carolina; head and shoulders bruised.

MORE TROUBLE IN THE PAPER MILLS

Old-Time Saturday Night Off Contention Comes Up Again with Renewed Impetus.

Appleton, Wis., May 26.—Paper mill owners of the entire Fox River Valley today announced that Saturday night work at the union mills, which was the bone of contention at the strike two years ago must be resumed June 4th. This means a long trouble. It affects one thousand workers. The owners say the union did not get the competing companies in other places on to same schedule according to the provision agreed by the men when Saturday nights off were granted here.

MURDER CASE IS NEARLY FINISHED

Famous Rising Sun Prosecution May Go to the Jury Very Soon Now.

(Special by Scripps-McRae.)
Rising Sun, Ind., May 26.—The arguments in the Gillespie case were continued last evening in order to allow the case to go to the jury today. Attorney Griffith made a strong plea for the accused, Colonel Thomas Shaw took up this morning the closing argument for the defense.

Col. Shaw made eloquent appeal to the jurors for the defendants dwelling upon the good character of the Harbor and Gillespie families for generations. He asked that aged Mrs. Margaret Gillespie be spared further grief. Attorney Span took for the state occupying the entire afternoon. The court announced it would charge the jury Friday morning.

The defendants showed emotion during the flow of oratory. Myron Harbour's mother wept bitterly. The defendants had a hard time choking back the tears.

LOCOMOTIVE SMOKE IN TUNNEL KILLS TEN

Miners Were Riding on Cars That Had Carried Them in Safety Every Day for Many Years.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 26.—A telegram received at the Susquehanna Coal company's offices in this city states that ten miners were suffocated by gas and sulphur fumes from a small locomotive in the workings of the Summit Branch Coal company at Williamstown, Dauphin county. The victims included Michael Golden, general inside foreman of the company, and nine miners and laborers.

The tunnel in which the disaster occurred is one mile in length. The men employed in the mines in the Bear valley, who reside in Williamstown, have made it a practice for years to ride to and from their work on the trips of cars that are hauled between the two valleys by small locomotives.

The tunnel has been in constant operation for more than forty years and this is the first accident of any kind that has happened in it. It is perfectly free from mine gases and the ventilation is so perfect and the air current so strong and steady that besides being used for hauling cars the tunnel has formed one of the intakes that furnish air to the mines.

JAMES TYNER IS FREED NOW

Jury Reaches a Verdict for the Defendant in Twenty-Two Minutes.

H. J. BARRETT IS ALSO CLEARED

Jurors Wept with the Aged Attorney When He Break Down Upon Hearing Their Decision Declaring
His Innocence.

Washington, May 26.—Within twenty-two minutes of the retirement of the jury in the case of James N. Tyner and Harrison J. Barrett, tried on the charge of conspiracy in connection with the postoffice department, a verdict of not guilty was returned. The throng which had filled the courtroom hardly had time to leave the building before the jury was back and the foreman announced that a verdict had been reached.

Gen. Tyner appeared greatly excited as he attempted to face the jury, and when the verdict was returned he broke down completely. Several of the jurors wept with him and all of them shook hands with him.

Great Mass of Evidence.

The Tyner-Barrett case was begun on May 2. A great mass of testimony was offered. The prosecution brought forward an army of witnesses, a majority of whom were former officers of bond investment companies, through which Harrison J. Barrett, the junior defendant, was alleged to have profited after he left the postoffice department by practicing before his uncle, who remained in the department.

The principal arguments were by A. S. Worthington, for the defense, and Maj. Holmes Conrad, special counsel for the government, for the prosecution. The latter directed his efforts almost entirely to an attempt to counteract any influence on the jurors' verdict which might result from sympathy for Gen. Tyner.

Judge Pritchard's Charge. The jury was long. He had granted a number of the prayers offered by counsel on both sides and in addition his own charge covered a dozen typewritten pages. Among other things he told the jury that it had had an opportunity to observe the conduct of all of the witnesses and could take into consideration any interest they may have had in giving their testimony.

He called like attention of the defendants and the weight that should be attached to their statements. The court said in conclusion that the jury might find the defendants guilty as to each count charged in the indictment or acquit them as to one count and find them guilty as to the other or return a verdict of not guilty on both counts.

Judge Pritchard emphasized the fact that the jury should not be influenced by prejudice on the one hand nor sympathy on the other, and said the case should be tried solely on its merits and without regard to what the effect the verdict might have on the public mind. He gave a definition of conspiracy and made plain the meaning of "reasonable doubt."

"SPURIOUS" BILLS THE LAST CRIME

MORE PROFIT; LESS DANGER
FOR "BUNKO" MEN,

EXTRAVAGANT CLAIMS MADE

Much Secrecy on Part of Chief Crook
To Inveigle the Smaller Fry
Into Crime.

That there is nothing new under the sun would appear to be a familiar saying to the age when animals talked to each other and all was like one peaceful family. The latest dodge of the "Green Goods Men" is not to deal in Green Goods but to sell paper money made from plates stolen from the government. "Spurious" bills they are called. That Janesville men are thought to be eager for wealth is evidenced by the following letter which was received by a prominent citizen and promptly turned over to the Gazette for the benefit of any fool who might hope to gain riches by these methods. The letters are dated New Orleans and mailed in New York. Why this is done is explained in the letter itself.

Dear Sir:—
You may have received letters of this kind before, but I ask you to think this proposition over carefully and trust to your honor not to betray me, for it lies in my power to greatly benefit your financial condition without the slightest risk of any kind on your part. I have an article with which you can pay your debts, raise mortgages, and in fact make purchases, and in fact defy detection. They will stand and all tests. The sizes 15, 25, 50, and 100. Do you understand? I cannot be plainer until I know that you are true and will keep my secret. You run no risks whatever in getting these goods. These are not counterfeits as you might suppose, but only what the Government call them—"Duplicate Bills"—and impossible of detection. Enclosed newspaper article taken from one of our leading dailies, will give you a very good idea of the superb quality of my goods; but I feel that nothing speaks so well as the goods themselves, and if you think that you would like to take hold of this matter, providing the goods suit, I will let you have samples, so you can judge for yourself. Should you like to see sample, telegraph to the below address, but I ask you on your honor not to do so out of curiosity, but only if you mean business. Do not write to me, under any circumstances whatever, as I will not call for letters, so your letter would only go to the United States Dead Letter Office, where it would be opened by the government officials, and get you into trouble. Let it be understood then, that the only way you can hear from us is by telegraphing. When you telegraph always use Western Union, and prepay your telegram, for I am not known at the point where it is received.

Word and address your telegram as follows: A. B. Crane, Post Office, New York. "Send me Pedigree" Number 935. Then sign the initials of your name only, and be sure to have your number correct, for otherwise I would not know where or to whom to write, as I never keep a record of those to whom I write, until I receive a telegram. Do not say any more or less in the telegram than stated above. To show you how careful I am, I send agents out and have letters mailed from different parts of the United States. Then I have you telegraph to some point, where I have been from thence I have the telegram forwarded to some other point, and so on until it finally reaches me in New Orleans, La. You see I run no risks, neither will I let my customers run any, and I promise you that if you go well into this, and be guided by my advice and experience, you will never regret it; but that you will without fail reap a quick and independent fortune. All my customers are getting rich, why should you not do the same? I pledge myself as a man to man, that I am writing the strict truth and nothing else, I ask you for nothing in advance, nor will I accept anything and will only conduct my business in a square and honorable way, in which you are thoroughly protected. My proposition is a business proposition pure and simple, and if you become a customer, every dollar you make for yourself you will make something for me.

Remember the goods are of small denominations, therefore it is necessary to have agents in different sections of the United States. In conclusion I can only say that this is the chance of your life. Make the most of it. Keep your own counsel and whether you take hold or not treat me as a man. I have trusted you, so do not betray me, but keep the secret. Yours on Confidence, A. B. CRANE.

P. S.—If you mean business, I shall expect to hear from you within two weeks. "Let me caution you again," be sure to have your number correct in your telegram, and sign your initials only.

The Clipping
The clipping enclosed is, as follows:
Duplicates Not Counterfeits.
ARE CURRENCY PLATES IN PRIVATE HANDS.

Washington, D. C.—The explanation has been advanced by the experts that the wonderfully accurate character of the engraving of the currency on the One, Five, and Ten dollar greenbacks of the 1904 issue, which are causing so much uneasiness in the Treasury just now, is due to the notes being "spurious" and not counterfeits; in fact the conclusion has been almost definitely reached by experts that these bills instead of being the work of some patient and clever engraver of counterfeit money, have been or are being printed from Government plates stolen from the Bureau of Engraving. It is in this latter probability that their "spuriousness" would be, as bills printed from Government plates cannot be called counterfeits. The engraving is practically flawless, and as the bills are printed on paper with silk threads in it, the same kind the government uses, makes them exact duplicates of the genuine. The Chief of Secret Service and all his assistants have been hunting a long time for the printers of these dangerous duplicates, but without success, and investigations have been made to find out if possible, by what surreptitious means the plates were got out of the Bureau of Engraving, but nothing new was learned. Strange as it may appear, it is very evident that the theft of a Government plate is not such a very difficult matter. The process by which the Government plates are made is as follows:
The engraved plates are given a hard temper and placed under a soft steel cylinder which takes the impression. This cylinder is then tempered to the hardness of the original plates, and from soft steel plates, on which the printing is done, from this cylinder press as many sets of plates as can be made as desired. Until within a few years this cylinder press was most carefully guarded. Three locks were attached to it, so that three officials were present when it was operated. But in later years some officer concluded that one lock was sufficient, consequently the others were done away with. This left it a comparatively easy matter for the secret operation of the cylinder press and the making of duplicate plates from which the spurious notes could be printed.
There is hardly any doubt but that some dishonest official who had access to the cylinder press provided himself with a set of plates or was bribed to do it for a large sum of money, and it is absolutely certain that those who have the plates and print and pass or sell the bills have made fortunes at Uncle Sam's expense without any fear of detection or punishment. As these duplicate bills are never detected until they reach the redemption office, and then only if duplicate numbers are detected and as the bills so detected come from banks all over the United States and Canada which shows they keep careful distributed. No doubt they are careful to take their customers, and who they take in confidence, and any person who is fortunate enough to gain the confidence of these officials, and gets the chance to buy these duplicate bills, which are no doubt disposed of at a fair discount, can certainly make all the money they want at Uncle Sam's expense.
A great many people think he is rich and can stand the loss, and besides he has a little margin on the people, as there are lost by fire, shipwreck and otherwise thousands of dollars every year, which will never like to be redeemed by the Treasury, the people who lose them stand the loss.
It seems hard that a rich government should have such an advantage over poor people, but that is the law. Perhaps that is the reason why so many people and some of them high standing, are ready and willing to handle such bills, if they have an opportunity to get them.

VESTED CHORISTERS SING THIS EVENING

Churchgoers Have Great Anticipation of Praise Service at Trinity Church Tonight.

The chorists that are to participate in the praise service at Trinity Episcopal church this evening will be from St. Paul's church, Detroit; St. John's church, Evansville; and Trinity church, Janesville. Individual members of some of our choir members in other neighboring cities are also expected and there will be about one hundred vested choristers in the procession and the service. Each choir is to have its own crucifix. A general rehearsal was to be held at four o'clock this afternoon and the banquet to the visiting singers and clergy, at the Guild hall, was set for 6:30.

Public Is Invited.
Prof. A. Cumberland Wilson, Mus. D., of Grace church, Madison, will give a short recital before the service, beginning at ten minutes past seven. The choral service will be rendered to the Ferial chant. The choir will form in procession at 7:30 and proceed to the chancel singing "Onward Christian Soldiers" to Fuller's third setting. The sermon will be by Rev. J. C. Davis, of Ithaca, N. Y. Other clergy who are expected to be present are: The Reverend Messrs. H. J. Purdue, Detroit; Dean Chase, Mineral Point; E. J. Kelly, D. D., of Evansville.

The public is cordially invited to the festival. No admission will be charged but a collection will be taken up to defray expenses.

The Order of service, will be as follows:

1. 15 Minute Organ Recital by Prof. Wilson, Mus. D., beginning at 7:10 p.m. sharp.

DID ANYONE TRY TO KILL COOPER?

Congressman From This District Had a Narrow Escape from a Bullet Tuesday.

Did any one try to kill Congressman Cooper on Tuesday night? This is the problem that is worrying the detectives of the Northwestern road and while they scoff at the theory that the congressman was the proposed victim of a bullet which was fired into a Northwestern train he was a passenger on, they are secretly making every effort to locate the person who fired the shot. According to a dispatch from Kenosha, Mr. Cooper had a very narrow escape. The dispatch sent out states the following facts:

"Congressman Henry A. Cooper narrowly escaped being killed by a bullet fired through a car window on a Northwestern train Tuesday evening. Mr. Cooper and Mrs. George A. Yale of this city were sitting in a seat near the rear of the car and just as the train pulled out of Clyburn Junction, shortly after 8 o'clock, a pistol ball was fired through the window. It shattered the glass, and passed within a few inches of the head of the congressman, burying itself in the other side of the car. Congressman Cooper was slightly cut by broken glass falling on his head. Detectives of the company are looking into the matter.

Jefferson Hotel Proprietor Asks Suspended Road Promoter To Pay His Bills.

Does anyone in Janesville know a Frank Walworth who represents himself as a chief surveyor of an interurban road which is run a line from Janesville to Peewaukee? If they do they had better hasten to Jefferson and help him disentangle himself from the clutches of the law where he now is languishing. According to the dispatch from Jefferson, Mr. Walworth applied at several hotels for accommodations for himself and five other men who were to follow him to the scene of his activity in a few days. He finally secured rooms at the Northwestern hotel. Here he told the manager that he was chief surveyor of an interurban electric road that was to be built to run between Janesville and Peewaukee. He then hired a rig and drove into the country telling at theivery stable he had gone to secure the right of way for his road from the farmers. He was later arrested and taken before a justice where his hearing was postponed until he could prove his identity. Inquiry about the city does not bring any light upon the subject nor does the possible existence of the road Mr. Walworth talks about seem known.

TOBACCO MARKET NEARING A CLOSE

Buyers Are Picking Up a Few Crops, But Business in General Is Quiet.

While there is a good deal of riding going on, few transactions have been reported and prices in all cases have been low. At the same time it is said that dealers are willing to give good prices if they can find tobacco of the quality they are looking for. There is a fair demand for old leaf, and 8½ and 8¾ has been paid for the 1901 crop. Shipments out of storage from Edgerton for the week amounted to 488 cases and 3 carloads of bundle goods.

New York.
There have been no sales of importance. Sampling is proceeding and is not likely to be completed for some months. All indications are that there will be a great reduction in tobacco acreage this year, cabbage and onions taking the place of tobacco as a staple product. In Wayne county the acreage will not amount to more than 200 acres this year, as against 500 in 1903, 800 in 1902 and 1,000 acres in 1901. The shrinkage is put down to bad weather resulting in poor crops, but the ignorance of farmers is partly to blame. The crop in many cases was poorly handled and came out with an unmixered sound with the natural consequence of low prices. This year it is probable that the small acreage will be handled by competent growers, and the result should be a distinct improvement in the quality of the leaf.

New England.
Growers are now devoting their attention to the tobacco beds, which are greatly benefited by the recent rains. Present indications are that the transplanting will be unusually late, carried on, in fact, well into June. In the opinion of competent judges this delay is not an unmixered evil, the tendency of recent years having been to see how early tobacco could be started and harvested, whereas the greater part of the really choice crops could be found in the late harvested tobacco. Considerable interest has been excited among growers of the Connecticut Valley by an exhibition of Connecticut grown Cuban tobacco. The difference between this and Havana seed tobacco is that the former was raised from seed procured in Cuba, while the Havana was from seed of Cuban leaf which had become acclimated in New England soil. Growers in general are showing a preference for broad leaf over Havana, and a corresponding increase in the price commanded by the former last spring.

MONTHLY MARKET IS NOW TALKED OF

WOULD DRAW FARMERS FROM ENTIRE COUNTY.

ALSO INCREASE LOCAL TRADE

Locations That Are Talked of by Those Interested in the Movement.

There is a possibility that before autumn a monthly market day will be officially established in the city and suitable place for the display of the farmers goods will be established and an enclosure for the sale of horses and farm animals arranged. For some time past the matter has been discussed informally by members of the Business Men's Association and the act of Rockford in establishing such a market on a plot of ground donated to the city for this purpose has renewed the interest of the Janesville men who have talked of the prospects. It would mean that Janesville would become the center of the farm trade for the whole county and what not only the farmers would be benefited but that merchants would also receive their share of the business that now goes to many of the smaller stores in the country towns. Several locations have been suggested but no definite action has been taken.

Being Considered.
Secretary Bingham of the Business Men's Association stated this morning that the project was being talked of very seriously and that he thought some definite action would be taken before long. He could not say as to the location but thought that a downtown stand would be the best. The idea as projected thus far is to combine a produce and animal market on the same day. Madison has a horse market once a month and hundreds of horses change hands there each month. Buyers come from Minneapolis, Chicago, Milwaukee, Des Moines and Dubuque and some have even come from further east and west. Horses are brought there from all over the state and from Minnesota and Iowa. Such a market in Janesville would be an excellent thing and would help trade in the city wonderfully.

Possible Location.
One of the locations talked of is the alley in the rear of the stores on Main street between Court and Milwaukee. There is considerable space here between the buildings and the river and should this be paved and a few sheds built it would make an ideal spot. Entrance could be had from both ends of the alley and the overflow could continue down into the street and onto Court street. Another location talked of is on the west side of the river between River and Franklin streets. Here, however, traffic would be congested by the crowds who would be there and the vehicles that would be tied.

Old Fashioned Indeed.
If such a market was established it would bring back the old market days of the early times. It would draw farmers from all parts of the county who now trade in Edgerton, Evansville, Milton and Beloit to Janesville. If started the accommodations should be such that the buyers and sellers would have every comfort possible and it would cost the city but a trifle to see such a market established and kept up.

OBSERVANCE OF MEMORIAL DAY

Alderman A. E. Matheson Will Give Principal Address—Parade in Morning.

Alderman A. E. Matheson has consented to act as the Memorial Day speaker and his address will be given at the exercises to be held in the court rooms at two o'clock in the afternoon. The parade in the morning will form on West Milwaukee street at nine o'clock in the morning and headed by the G. A. R. file and drum corps will march to the cemeteries where flowers will be placed on the graves of the departed comrades. C. D. Childs, chairman of the arrangements committee, has supervision of the afternoon program. Besides the address of the day there will be selections by a quartette and other numbers appropriate to the occasion.

"AMONG THE WORLD'S WORKERS"

News Notes From Various Sources of Great Interest to the Workingman.

A general strike of machinists on the Santa Fe system has been ordered. It will effect directly 6000 men, and may result also in bringing out the boilermaker's, blacksmiths, and car workers, these organizations having already under consideration the advisability of conducting a sympathetic strike, in which event 15,000 men would be effected.

A reduction of wages has been ordered in logging camps and box factories of Northern California. The reduction will be about 10 per cent, and it effects at least 3,000 lumbermen. The lowest wages the men have been receiving have been $2.25 a day of 11 hours. In box factories the rate per hour has been cut from 20 to 18 and 15 cents.

A plan to prevent strikes has been formed by the St. Paul, Minn. Trades and Labor Assembly. An advisory board of seven members has been appointed to investigate all grievances, order strikes or prevent them. Hasty decisions on the part of the unions in declaring strikes will be discouraged, while radically disposed members will be diplomatically dealt with.

One result of emigration from Sweden is to raise the wages for those farm laborers who a few years ago were paid 150 and 200 kr. a year now receive 350kr. and upward. Boys of 15 now obtain as much as a full-grown man did a few years ago, and the wages of house servants have doubled in a short time.

The Indian block coal operators and miners scale committees reached an agreement recently and the scale was signed for two years. The contract calls for a 5 per cent. reduction.

Rumors are current in labor circles that the executive council of the American Federation of Labor will recommend the next convention of that body that a permanent home and building for the parent body be erected in Washington and submit.

Last year in Austria thirteen factories were closed by the inspectors because the factory laws were not obeyed. Altogether 16,773 factories were visited, 559 manufacturers were found to be negligent and 142 were fined to the amount of $1350.

The Erie road has decided to delay its summer change in time to a date which will probably be decided to be June 15. Its through St. Louis trains will also be delayed.

ARE ON TRAIL OF CLEVELAND

Officers at Monroe Secured a Photograph of Him Here and Are Conducting Search.

Janesville officers have sent to Sheriff Gardner of Monroe a photograph of Cleveland, the bold criminal who contrived a jail delivery of Harry Johnson, the noted forger, from the Jackson county institution. Cleveland was traced to the McHaggitt woods, five miles south of Monroe and it has been learned that he subsequently hire a man to take him to Juda, Janison, after his escape, took an opposite direction from that followed by Cleveland and went northward. Cleveland may possibly be somewhere in this vicinity.

MUNYON'S WITNESSES TESTIFY

To the Virtues of His New Paw Paw
Remedy

THE MAYOR OF AUGUSTA, ME.,
GIVES PAW PAW STRONG
ENDORSEMENT

Arcadius Avelannus, Dr. Litt., Dr. Phil., Leading Philadelphia Physician and World-famous Idologist, Speaks for

PAW PAW

J. J. Burbank, a Prominent New England Hotel Keeper, Cured of Dyspepsia.

E. P. Wood, of Boston, Buyer for the Great Dry Goods House of Jordan, Marsh & Co.

WAS CURED

And Hundreds More—An Army of Cured Testimonies to Munyon's Paw Paw.

City Hall, Augusta, Me.

Dear Sir:—For the past year or more I have been troubled with dyspepsia and indigestion and can truthfully state that after the use of part of one bottle of Paw Paw I find my stomach very much improved and expect to become entirely free from this ailment with the further assistance of your great vegetable peppin, Paw Paw.

G. A. ROBERTSON,
Mayor of Augusta, Me.

Professor Arcadius Avelannus, one of the leading savants of the age, says:

I used to wonder, when in the land of the Paw Paw, why some clever physician or chemist had not brought that wonderful fruit before suffering humanity, as a powerful tonic for the stomach. I have used Munyon's Paw Paw and it is a splendid thing. I congratulate Professor Munyon for his clever enterprise, for doing what others had neglected to do.

ARCADIUS AVELANNUS,
Dr. Litt., Dr. Ph.

704 S. Washington Square, Philadelphia.

J. L. Burbank, Prop. Hotel Stark, Manchester, N. H., cured of chronic dyspepsia, writes:

I have for years had dyspepsia in a most chronic form. I was dizzy all the time and suffered with headache. I have taken Paw Paw for ten days and am now perfectly cured and I cheerfully give this testimony and will answer all questions in order to prove that the above "miraculous" is genuine.

(Signed) J. L. BURBANK, Prop., Hotel Stark, Manchester, N. H.

Mr. E. P. Wood, Buyer of Jordan, Marsh & Co., Boston, says:

Dear Sir:—I have been taking Paw Paw for some time as a strengthening tonic and it has proven itself a wonderful medicine. I can truthfully state that the food I eat digests perfectly. After taking Paw Paw I feel braced up and recommend this wonderful remedy to all brain workers who are in need of a superior tonic.

(Signed) E. P. WOOD,
1100 State street, Boston, Mass.

Dr. W. T. Graham, a prominent Philadelphia physician, says:
Thousands and thousands of years this Paw Paw fruit has grown in abundance all over India and South America, generations have gone without man discovering the value of this fruit, thousands and thousands of lives could have been saved had man known its medicinal qualities.

Like electricity, it has always been with us, but it took an Edison to harness electricity and make it light the world.

So it took a Munyon to discover the virtues of Paw Paw and give to the world a positive cure for most stomach and nerve troubles.

Doesn't such truthful testimony as that arouse you to the necessity of doing something for yourself?

Have you a rebellious stomach that gives you no peace night or day?

Have you unruly nerves that keep you on edge and ready to almost fly through the roof at the least noise or disturbance?

Do you lie awake night after night, vainly trying to woe slumber and get up in the morning more tired and exhausted than when you went to bed?

If these troubles are interfering with your happiness and health, Paw Paw should be set at work without a minute's delay. Get a bottle to-day and to-morrow you'll have your nerves steady.

Munyon's Paw Paw (drug analysis), price $1. Paw Paw Laxative Pills, 25c. per box. At all druggists.

The character which Mr. Skinner will create in his new play from the French of Jean Richepin, is one of all the sons of any true artist with inspiration and delight. At the same time it makes heavy demands upon the actor, not only compelling rare personality but the broadest possible technical equipment. The role is that of a wanderer—half Gypsy, half philosopher—vagrant and gentleman all in one. As the play opens, The Harvester (for by that name the character is alone known throughout the action) is discovered at the head of a line of dark-skinned, brawny reapers in the Arcadian harvest fields of a humble but beautiful village on the French-Canadian border in the year 1850. He is a handsome, debonaire fellow, full of song and jest and merry stories of strange adventures in the distant lands whence he came. Every maiden in the village is secretly or avowedly in love with him, while the men fear him, not only for his strange, wild ways, but because he has proven himself invincible in every manly test of strength and prowess. As for the Harvester himself, he has eyes for no one save "Tollette" the luscious beauty of the village who serves, like himself, the lord of the fair demesne wherein the poetic story rises and Life's Change. Much Suffering at This Critical Period Saved by Dr. Miles' Nerve.

"Change of Life" is one of woman's greatest and most dangerous troubles. Often it is not recognized, and the distressing symptoms are mistaken for Dyspepsia, Liver, Womb Trouble, etc.

The depressing constitutional effects of Change of Life, and the female Disorders so common at that period, are best treated with a general nerve restorative which will give tone to the entire system—Dr. Miles' Nerve.

The beneficial effects of this celebrated medicine are very quickly felt, and the constitutional disturbances, tired, nervous, and anxiety are relieved, and fresh energy infused into mind and body.

It is the medicine which acts on the nerves which regulate the organs of the body.

Such distressing troubles as Backache, Headache, Bearing-down Pains, Bloating, Indigestion, Menstrual Irregularities, Irritability, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Tired Feeling, are relieved and cured by Dr. Miles' Nerve.

"My wife was a sufferer from an attack of nervous prostration, brought on by female weakness, and was in very poor health. After reading one of Dr. Miles' advertisements, she concluded to try Dr. Miles' Nerve. She obtained good results from the start, and now, after taking second bottle enjoys good health. Words cannot express our appreciation of what it has done for us."

Painless, Natural Childbirth.

Baby's coming into the world should be preceded by a certain preparation on the part of every woman who expects to become a mother. She owes it as a duty to her unborn babe, and to herself, her duty to her unborn babe is to use every means within her power to aid his entrance into the world. Baby cannot help himself in this ordeal, therefore mother must. He has a hard enough time after his arrival, so let us make his coming easy. His health in after life depends greatly upon the manner of his coming; would you have your child a cripple, or would you have him a tower of strength? Strong men are but grown-up children; a famous surgeon in Vienna is devoting his life-work to the cure of little helpless cripples, deformed by birth; do not allow your child to become a cripple.

Mother's Friend

Is a balsam which will forestall any possibility of accident at birth; that is, it relaxes all the abdominal muscles and tissues, and permits of an easy access to the child. It eases the mother's pain, and so assists nature that when baby comes he starts out in life with a constitution well able to fight life's battles, and to bloom into strong pure manhood that is the comfort and delight of every true mother's heart.

Pastor Resigns Rather Than Preach "Pyrotechnic" Sermons.

New York, May 26.—Rather than be a sensational preacher Rev. Edward Everett Knapp has resigned the pastorate of the Central Baptist Church of Brooklyn. Empty benches Sunday after Sunday convinced Mr. Knapp that he was not preaching the sort of sermons that could draw the people. He told his friends that he would leave the church before he would resort to sensational methods to attract an audience. His friends urged him to keep on just as he had been going, but it was said that he became disheartened at the growing listlessness in the church and determined to resign.

F. F. LIVERMORE THE CHAIRMAN

NAMED BY SUPERVISORS AT THE MEETING THIS AFTERNOON.

REAL BUSINESS TOMORROW

After Brief Session, County Board Adjourned to Give Chairman Chance To Appoint Committees.

F. F. Livermore of Beloit was elected chairman of the county board at the meeting called at two o'clock this afternoon. He received 29 out of the 35 votes cast. The other ballots were all scattering, one of them being for F. P. Shulley. Mr. Livermore made a brief but pleasing address thanking the board for their honor. At half past two the board adjourned until ten o'clock tomorrow morning in order to give the new chairman an opportunity to appoint his committees.

Change in Committees.
Certain committees appointed last year owed their existence to error, the state laws having abolished their functions. Thus committee No. 5 for the changing of names of persons, towns and villages must be partly done away with. Any person having a name he wishes to get rid of need now only go before Register of Deeds Weidrich and file his blank. Committee No. 1 for appointing jurors no longer has any functions, the jury commissioners performing its duties. Committee No. 17 or granting licenses, is therefore substituted for No. 8 in the list.

Only One Absent.
There was nearly a full quota at the meeting this afternoon, only E. H. Ransom of Bradford being absent.

Marriage Licenses: Marriage licenses have been issued recently to Fred Chapin and Dora Frost of Union, Andrew S. Peters of the town of Rock and Cora M. Olin of Atton, Archie Cobb and Cora Frost of Beloit; and an application has been received from Charles Henry Miles and Clara Klinesmith, both of Evansville.

For private and public picnics, moonlight excursions, dances, etc., see me at my dock between 1:00 and 2:00 p. m. daily. Captain Gehrke.

HEYDAY OF THE LAWYERS PAST

THE BLACKSTONIANS MAY SOON HAVE TO REALLY TOIL.

COLLECTION AGENCIES BUSY

Taking the Bread From Their Mouths and Would Do Business with Court on Cut Rate Plan.

Cut rates in justice! Like all other commodities, that dispensed by the blind goddess is becoming amenable to the tendency of the times towards large transactions or small margins. At least that is the way that one of the local justices of the peace looks at it. He says that a representative of one of the collection agencies that are doing business in this vicinity called at his office a few days ago and, remarking that he was considering the matter of starting about sixty suits in Janesville, intimated that, considering the quantity of the business, he would expect a liberal discount in court charges. The competition of justices in other points in the county, of course, would have to be considered and a head-rock rate made if the Janesville jurist expected to get the cases.

Methods of These Agencies.
Many of these agencies are said to really get more from merchants for their services than is ordinarily paid to local attorneys in the same capacity. They promise more than can the conscientious attorney, some of them offering to sign a contract to collect any bad bill that may be placed in their hands. A contract to do the impossible is, of course, void. So they are safe enough there. A common method of forcing the payment is by the anonymous method. Suits are frequently started against a debtor at a point as distant as possible from his home and still within the county. This causes him to spend money for railroad fare and lose valuable time, in case he is a working man. When the only motive for starting the case at a distance is to annoy, the proceeding is illegal and the perpetrators can be punished. But motives are difficult things to establish and prove.

Fewer Bills to Collect.
Merchants are extending less credit than heretofore and there are fewer civil cases in the courts. Mechanics liens are frequently filed less than six hours after a given piece of work is completed. There is a disposition to eliminate the lawyer as far as possible and the facetious say that he will soon have to turn his hand to something else and earn an "honest" living. Three years ago, before the rating agencies began to conduct their operations here, the merchants had gone to another extreme. They were extending almost unlimited credit to almost everyone. "No risk" is now the motto and they would rather keep the goods on their shelves than turn them over to anybody concerning whom there is even a hint of a shadow of a doubt.

THE DRESS SUIT IS VILE USURPER IN GAME OF GOLF

It Knows Only the Nineteenth Hole, Yet Monopolizes Fairest Daughter of Links—Sorrows of Real Player

There is a serious agitation to abolish evening dress at the golf clubs, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. And it is significant that the agitation comes from the true golf enthusiast and not the dilettante who goes out to the golf club after business hours for his evening amusement.

Now, what is the indictment against the golf club dress suit? Just this: It does not play golf. It gets together in the cool of the evening, with a white tie, a starched shirt, and a pair of dancing pumps, and goes out of the clubhouse. It dines in company with perhaps the fairest daughter of the golf links, and then goes on the porch with this selfsame daughter and talks literature and art. And perhaps, later, it dances far into the night. In the morning it comes back to town. Its only knowledge of the golf course is the nineteenth hole.

The true golfer, the golfer in home-spun trousers and a blue shirt, or the golfer in tweeds, or the golfer whose attire is made up of the comfortable odds and ends of his wardrobe—is at a disadvantage. He comes in feeling tired and happy, or tired and unhappy, according to the score, and he sees the fairest daughter of the links talking to the dress suit on the piazza. He sees the dress suit lead the fairest daughter in to dinner, then out onto the porch again, and finally he sees it as her constant companion at the Saturday night informal hop.

Now, the true golfer, who started the game perhaps as early as 8 a. m., has not seen the links as a part of a society entertainment. He came there to golf. He came there to show himself that he could make the course in breezy, incidentally, he rather thought the fairest daughter might be out on the piazza when he came in that evening and that, tired and happy, soiled but triumphant, he might sink down in the seat beside her and pass a few commonplaces. And later, when he had brushed up a bit, he might return to her side and, with the moonlight flooding the links, as they looked out across the velvet sward—etc.

But the city dress suit has spoiled all this. It has come out in large numbers for the hop. It is sitting all over the porch, and the true golfer realizes that he must go and unpack his dress suit case and become one of the porch golfers—or take to the society of other true golfers in that corner that is shunned by prohibitionists.

Beloit Victorious: A large delegation from Janesville saw the University of Wisconsin baseball team beaten by a score of 4 to 2 by the Beloit College yesterday afternoon. Morey for Beloit struck out twice as many men as "Cy" Young, and the latter was taken out of the box at the end of the fifth inning.

JANESVILLE IS IN THE BANANA BELT

Torrid Weather Officially Recognized by Park Committee—Plant Tropical Tree in Court House Park.

Janesville is to be in the banana belt this summer. Under fairer skies than those prevailing today the park committee of the city council has caused to be planted in the flower bed of the court house premises a well developed banana tree. Hints on Playing Baseball

Every One Has Some Particular Weak Point That He Should Strengthen. The Batting Position. Advice to Catchers and Others.

Every baseball player, professional or amateur, should be doing his best at this time of the year, in the preliminary stage, to strengthen himself in his weak points for the long and trying campaign ahead.

It is a noticeable and with a peculiar fact that every player of the national game has his weak points. The perfect all around player is yet to be found, although men like Napoleon Lajoie, Hans Wagner and "Vee Willie" Keeler have almost reached this advanced stage in their development.

"RANDOW" MERTES SHOWING THE CORRECT BATTING POSITION.

One man is a good batsman, a reliable fielder and a strong thrower, and yet he cannot run bases any better than does a college freshman. Another is effective in all branches of the game except batting. Still another can pick up any old kind of a sizzling grounder, can haul down a hot liner with one hand, but cannot, to "save his life," as the expression goes, hold on to a high fly, sometimes called a "sorener," or a "skyscraper." And so it goes all the way down the line. Even the best of them have their faults.

Therefore the writer will again repeat that the present time ought to be devoted to practicing the branches of play in which a man is deficient.

It is not too late now to correct the evils that escaped notice in the spring training trips. Now, while the season is young, before the loss of a game, or even two or three, counts for a great deal, is the time to polish the dull spots in your armor.

If you cannot make sure of catching the swift liners that frequently shoot over the heads of both infielders and outfielders, ask some fellow player to spend an hour during two or three mornings in batting them to you. Learn to catch them with both hands, if possible, but if not, jump with the right hand and arm extended, as

A JUMP FOR A HIGH LINER. shown in one of the illustrations accompanying this story. Keep your eyes "on the ball" at all times. Do not make a blind leap for it, trusting to luck, after the fashion of many amateurs. The pulling down of hot liners with one hand is a favorite trick of Bill Dahlen, the splendid shortstop that Ed Hanlon of Brooklyn traded to the New York Nationals last winter. Then, again, many players stand in a faulty position at the bat. They do not get enough swing into the stick half of the time. Observe the position of the bat in the hands of "Sandow" Mertes, the famous heavy hitting left fielder, as shown in the accompanying picture drawn from a photo. Mertes is close to the top of the list of heavy hitters. He says: "Hold the bat well back from the plate and swing the weight of the body into your stroke, as well as the strength and weight of the arms and shoulders. Keep your eye on the ball up to the very moment you meet it with the bat; also grasp the bat a short distance from the end of the handle—not at the extreme end, as do some players. By following this rule you will hit more accurately."

Cost to Traction Companies. The average cost for carrying a passenger on the street railways of the United States is 2.9 cents.

Catchers frequently hinder their chances of developing into stellar players by not learning to bend at the knees when low balls or drops are pitched. By so doing they can put their eyes closer to the line of the ball, gauging it more accurately, and they can see under the batsman's arm and bat, obtaining a better view of men on bases. If the catcher bends from the waist for a low ball, holding his knees stiff, he must strain his eyes upward to watch base runners; also he sees the approaching ball from above rather than from in front, and he is unable to ascertain its course as easily as would have been the case of a bend from the knees.

In addition, the catcher can invariably throw or snap the ball more quickly to the bases from his bended knees, if bend he must. If he leans away down from the waist to scoop up the low ball he must straighten himself and get into throwing position before he can attempt to shut off a daring runner.

The Cleveland team of the American league is in better shape than in any season since the club has been a member of the league. The veterans on the pitching staff—Joss, Moore, Bernhard and Donohue—are all in good condition. Bemis and Abbott behind the bat are both in better shape than last season, while Hickman on first shows great improvement. Last season Lajoie was sick when the season started. This year he is in the "pink of condition."

Bradley at third is the same old "Brad." In Turner the blues seem to have picked up a jewel to take Gochman's place at short. He has not been hitting as yet, but he hit well in the American association last year. Foster and Schwartz, the utility infielders, have both displayed good form.

The outfield is strong, having Fick and Ray of last year's team for right and center field, while Billy Lush, last year with Detroit, is in left. O'Hara and Rossman, two minor league recruits, are in reserve and are a good pair of youngsters. O'Hara being a star in the field, though a trifle shy at the bat, while Rossman is a hard hitter. Every member of the team is in good condition, and the Cleveland fans can see nothing but the pennant for the blues this season.

Ed Hanlon figures his Superbas as a first division proposition, as a result of their showing thus far in the league race. Whether he banks on beating out Chicago or Cincinnati, Foxey Ned saith not. The team shapes up strong at the bat and in the field, while Gary, Cronin, Reidy and Poole form a quartet of welders which ranks with the best. Hanlon will use them in regular order.

Of the new men, Harry Lumbey looms up as the best, his hitting being particularly attractive up to date. Babb is a fixture at short.

Sheekart is striking the ball harder than ever, and his all around work is better than last year. Billy Bergen strengthens the catching immensely, and he will probably crowd Bitter off the team, Jacklisch being in better shape than at any time in his career.

Jimmy Sheekard, by the way, led the National league's home run column last season, scoring a total of nine.

Ban Johnson's Opinion.
In an interview in Chicago President Ban Johnson said he believed the American league race this season would be between Boston and New York in the east and Cleveland and Chicago in the west.

Doyle's Record.
The list of cities in which Jack Doyle has played major league ball now includes Cleveland, New York, Washington, Baltimore, Chicago, Philadelphia and Brooklyn.

The Brilliant Young Jockey's First Mount—His Rise to Fame.

No jockey in the land has risen to the top more rapidly or has a future of brighter promise than Little H. ("Kelly") Phillips, now a prominent figure in the turf campaign in the east.

Phillips is now competing successfully with such stars as Slaw, Tommy Burns, George Odum, Grover Cleveland Fuller, Cochran and Martin, and backers place great confidence in his mounts, whether or not they are of the highest class.

Phillips first won national fame at New Orleans during the last winter meeting. Since that time he has speedily forged to the foremost rank of American horse pilots.

Phillips was once a programme boy on the Texas tracks. His father, who is known as "Old Jack" Phillips, has long been a trainer in the southwest, and two years ago he gratified the ambitions of his boy by allowing him to gallop horses in their morning exercise.

A year ago last September Dutch Carter, owned by the elder Phillips and named for the famous Yale baseball player, was entered for the Alamo handicap at Denison, Tex. "Kelly" had never ridden in a regular race, and this was to be his first. The odds on the horse were 5 to 1, and the public did not think much of his chances, believing Phillips to know more about selling programmes, which he had been doing during the early part of the day, than he did about jockeyship. He fooled them completely. He weighed in at eighty-five pounds, rode Dutch Carter like a master and won by twelve lengths.

Afterward Phillips rode this horse many a time and scored several surprising victories. Last year the horse and boy were seen at New Orleans and St. Louis, and several races were won when the odds were long.

During the last winter at New Orleans "Kelly" Phillips was the hero of the meeting, and he signed to ride for E. R. Thomas and Aleck Shields at a salary of $10,000 a year—quite a jump for a boy who last year was glad to get $200 a month first choice on his services in Chicago.

His love for Dutch Carter, the horse on which he had his first winning mount, is unusual. One of the conditions made with Shields was that the horse is to accompany him and to be a regular member of the Thomas-Shields stables. Another member of the combination is "Dan" Phillips himself. The boy's riding is the most serious thing in the world to him. As soon as the flag falls the old man goes to the infield, and throughout the race his voice can be heard a half mile away. No college baseball coach on the side line ever yelled and worked more vigorously. "Let him roll, boy!" "Go on with him!" etc., are some of his favorite exclamations.

"Old Jack" Phillips is a wonderful whistler, and when "Kelly" turns into the home stretch his whistling can often be heard even above the yelling of the spectators in the grand stand.

As a jockey Phillips has few superiors. He has a good seat, a good pair of hands, is quick at the post and is a good general either in a sprint or a long race. His seat is distinctly American, and he uses a very short stirrup, and at a distance looks as much like a monkey as a boy in the saddle. It is said of him that he never deliberately tries to make a close finish. His sole aim is to win, and a victory by twenty yards is just as welcome as one by a head.

Trotting Snap Shots.

Alleris, 2:10 1/4, will be raced through the great western circuit.

Maby, 2:16 1/4, dam of Jim S. Patchen, pacer, 2:18 1/4, has been sold by James Sherlock, Oxford, Ind., to Conroy Bros., Conroy, Ind.

The crack Kansas pacer stallion, Red Bird, 2:09 1/4, is entered in a large number of early closing events in the grand circuit. He is owned by W. B. McCormick, an extensive stock farmer and breeder who resides near Zeandale, Kan.

Boys Harry, 2:10 1-4.
The pacer gelding Harry, 2:10 1/4, by J. W. C., has been purchased by J. Kelsor, Jackson, Mich., from Colonel J. W. Stillwell, Troy, O.

The Pirate Pitchers.
Captain Fred Clarke of Pittsburgh says his pitching corps is a deal stronger than when he faced Boston last fall.

Control Japanese Products.
The Standard Oil Company and the American Tobacco Company control the products of Japan in their respective lines.

SHOOTS TWO BEFORE DYING

Ohio Convict Wounds Guards, One Fatally, and Commits Suicide.

Columbus, O., May 26.—Frank Green a convict at the Ohio penitentiary, is dead, Henry Gearhart, a guard from Lawrence county, is dying and Albert Hubler, another guard, from Summit county, is suffering severe injury as the result of an outbreak at the prison about 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

The shooting was all done by Green, the convict, who shot the two guards and then committed suicide. Green was a desperate character, having been sent here for participation in the Somerset bank robbery a few years ago.

Gearhart is shot through both lungs and cannot live long. Guard Hubler is shot in the arm and will recover. No one knows the cause of the tragedy or where Green procured the revolver. He lay in wait for the men and without a word or without any trouble or fight began to fire.

GRAND JURY INDICTS BANKER

W. E. Brown Charged With Embezzling Funds and Causing Failure.

St. Louis, Mo., May 26.—W. E. Brown, president of the First National bank of Storm Lake, which recently failed, was indicted by the federal grand jury on two counts, one for embezzlement and conversion of $74,000 of the bank's funds and the other charging the making of false and fraudulent reports to the comptroller of the treasury regarding the condition of the bank. Brown was indicted in the state court of Buena Vista county three weeks ago for the failure of two branch state banks at Linn Grove and Royal.

Girl Cashier Kills Self.

St. Louis, Mo., May 26.—Miss Beatrice May Clifton, who was formerly cashier of the E. J. Arnold Co., defunct turf investment company, committed suicide by shooting herself in the breast. Her health was given as the cause.

Anthracite in British Columbia.

Anthracite coal has been discovered in the vicinity of Cumberland, British Columbia, and the mine is being developed. Samples contain 83 per cent carbon and 5.75 per cent ash. The coal is compact and lustrous in appearance.

No Incumbrances.

"Have you any children?" he asked. "No," replied the beautiful grass widow; their father wanted his people to bring them up, and my lawyer thought it would be foolish of me to fight for possession of them as long as they could have such good care and so many luxuries if I let them go."

Special Room for Manuscripts.

Warned by the great destruction of literary treasures in the Turin fire, the Italian minister of public instruction has ordered that in the new national library at Florence all important manuscripts shall be placed in a special room.

Shock Was Too Much.

Recently an old woman at Clinchey, France, was told that she had won $20,000 in a Spanish lottery. Later she found she had been hoaxed and the shock of the disappointment killed her instantly.

Delusions of the Brain.

The brain alone experiences sensation and when that sensation results from delusion it is quite as intense in character and exhausting in its effects as when a consequence of disease in the parts that feel painful.

Man Behind the Bowl.

He loitered at the festal board, a man of might and power; a modest flush adorned the face of this hero of the hour. It was a spread of charity, and strange it is, but true, he caught the only oyster that was swimming to the stew.

Area of Alaska.

Alaska is a great empire, of the vast size of which few people have any conception. It is more than 550 times as large as the state of Rhode Island and nearly equals in area all the states of the Union east of the Mississippi river.

Stateman Was Considerate.

"Don't bury me on Thursday," were the dying words of John Penn, an English member of parliament. "There is a little girl opposite who is about to be married on that day, and it would be gruesome."

Making Wood Pulp.

In the manufacture of wood pulp tons of fir are placed in a strong chamber and there subjected to the action of superheated steam until the water in every cell is converted into explosive gas. The chamber is then opened and the log explodes, converting itself instantly into wood powder.

Power of Advertising.

A family in Florida had lost their little boy and advertised for him in a daily paper. That afternoon an alligator crawled out of the swamp and died on the front doorstep. In his stomach was found a handful of red hair, some bone buttons, a pair of boot heels, a glass alley, a pair of check trousers and a paper collar. The advertisement did it.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child survives, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, dependent upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a fault as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

CAN'T BE SEPARATED.

Some Janesville People Have Learned How to Get Rid of Both

Backache and kidney ache are twin brothers.

You can't separate them. And you can't get rid of the backache until you cure the kidney ache.

If the kidneys are well and strong the rest of the system is pretty sure to be in vigorous health.

Doan's Kidney Pills make strong healthy kidneys.

Mr. E. Dillenbeck of 120 Milton avenue, retired farmer, says: "My wife was troubled with kidney complaint for four or five years and complained it pains in the small of the back in the region of the kidneys. The symptoms all indicated that the kidneys were deranged and the doctors who treated her said that those organs caused the disturbance. As she did not get any better we thought Doan's Kidney Pills might give her relief, on procuring them at the People's Drug Store, I had her use the remedy. I did for her all that could be expected. We can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and you can use our names as saying what has been stated above."

MAKES MARK OF CONGRESSMAN

Unknown Man Fires Through Car Window; Barely Misses Victim.

Kenosha, Wis., May 26.—Congressman Henry A. Cooper narrowly escaped being killed by a bullet fired through a car window on a Northwestern train. He and Mrs. George A. Yule of this city were sitting together near the rear of the car and just as the train pulled out of Clybourn Junction a pistol ball was fired through the window. It shattered the glass and passed within a few inches of the congressman's head, burying itself in the other side of the car. Congressman Cooper was slightly cut by the broken glass falling on his head.

RISKS HIS LIFE TO SAVE DOG

Indiana Man Jumps in Front of Engine and Is Seriously Hurt.

Mishawaka, Ind., May 26.—Because he wanted to save his dog from death under a train E. M. Long, the Lake Shore railway agent, ran in front of an engine and snatched up the animal. Both dog and man were struck by the train. The dog is dead. Long is seriously injured. While playing on the same track the 4-year-old son of Phillip Goodall was struck by a passenger train and fatally injured.

MINERS DO NOT FAVOR SCHEME

Probably Will Not Affiliate With the Federation of Labor.

Denver, Colo., May 26.—The Western Federation of Miners listened to reasons by the members of the committee representing the executive board of the American Federation of Labor why the former organization should affiliate with the latter body. Sentiment among the metalliferous miners is against affiliating with the American Federation of Labor.

HISS HEAD OF UNIVERSITY.

Wisconsin President's Ruling on Examination Is Denounced.

Madison, Wis., May 26.—At a special convention President Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin announced that there would be examinations during jubilee week. The announcement was hissed by the students, who strongly disapprove the ruling. Placards have been posted on the campus by the students denouncing President Van Hise's action.

CHAPTER XVI.

MEANWHILE, and before any of us had left this room, one fact had become apparent—Mr. Jeffrey was not going to volunteer any fresh statement in face of the distinct disapproval of his sister-in-law. As his eye fell upon the district attorney, who had lingered near, possibly in the hope of getting something more from this depressed and almost insensible man, he made one remark, but it was an automatic one, calculated to produce but little effect on the discriminating ears of this experienced official.

"I do not believe that my wife was murdered." This was what he said. "It was a wicked verdict. My wife killed herself. Wasn't the pistol found tied to her?"

Meanwhile a fact which all had noted and commented on had occurred to my mind and caused me to ask a brother officer who was walking out beside me what he thought of Mr. Moore's absence from an inquiry presumably of such importance to all members of his family.

The fellow laughed and said: "Old Dave has lost none of his peculiarities in walking into his fortune. This is his day at the cemetery. Didn't you know that? He will let nothing on earth get in the way of his pilgrimage to that spot on the 23d of May, much less so trivial an occurrence as an inquiry over the remains of his nearest relative."

I felt my gorge rise; then a thought struck me and I asked how long the old gentleman kept up his watch.

"From sunrise to sundown, the boys say. I never saw him there myself. My best lies in an opposite direction." I left him and started for Rock Creek cemetery. There were two good hours yet before sundown and I resolved to come upon Uncle David at his post.

It took just one hour and a quarter to get there by the most direct route I could take, five minutes more to penetrate the grounds to where a superb vehicle stood, drawn by two of the finest horses I had seen in Washington for many a long day. As I was making my way around this equipage I came upon a plot in a condition of unperturbed preparation to new sodding and the planting of several choice shrubs. In the midst of the sand thus exposed a single headstone rose. On its knees beside this simple monument I saw the figure of Uncle David, dressed in his finest clothes and showing in his oddly contorted face the satisfaction of great prosperity battling with the dissatisfaction of knowing that one he had so loved had not lived to share his elevation. He was rubbing away this mold from the name which, by his own confession, was the only one to which his memory clung in sympathy or endearment. At his feet lay an open basket, in which I detected the remains of what must have been a rather sumptuous cold repast. To all appearance he had foregone none of his ancient customs; only those customs had taken on elegance with his rise in fortune. The carriage and the horses and, most of all, the imperturbable driver seemed to awaken some awe in the boys. They were still in evidence, but they hung back sheepishly and eyed the basket of neglected food as if they hoped he would forget to take it away. Meanwhile the clattering of chains against the harness, the pinging of the horses and the low exclamations of the driver caused me the queerest feelings. Advancing quite unceremoniously upon the watcher by the grave, I remarked aloud:

"The setting sun will soon release you, Mr. Moore. Are you going immediately into town?"

He paused in his rubbing, which was being done with a very tender hand, and as if he really loved the name he was endeavoring to bring into plainer view. Scowling a little, he turned and met me point blank with a look which had a good deal of inquiry in it.

"I am not usually interrupted here," he emphasized—"except by the boys," he added more mildly. "They sometimes approach too closely, but I am used to the lumps and scarcely notice them. Ah, there are some of my old friends now! Well, it is time they knew that a change has taken place in my fortunes. Hi, there! Hands up and catch this, and this and this!" he shouted. "But keep quiet about it, or next year you will get peeples again!"

And, flinging quarters right and left, he smiled in such a pompous, self-satisfied way at the burr and scramble which ensued, that it was well worth my journey there just to see this exhibition of combined vanity and good humor.

The carriage and the horses and, most of all, the imperturbable driver seemed to awaken some awe in the boys. They were still in evidence, but they hung back sheepishly and eyed the basket of neglected food as if they hoped he would forget to take it away. Meanwhile the clattering of chains against the harness, the pinging of the horses and the low exclamations of the driver caused me the queerest feelings. Advancing quite unceremoniously upon the watcher by the grave, I remarked aloud:

"The setting sun will soon release you, Mr. Moore. Are you going immediately into town?"

He paused in his rubbing, which was being done with a very tender hand, and as if he really loved the name he was endeavoring to bring into plainer view. Scowling a little, he turned and met me point blank with a look which had a good deal of inquiry in it.

"I am not usually interrupted here," he emphasized—"except by the boys," he added more mildly. "They sometimes approach too closely, but I am used to the lumps and scarcely notice them. Ah, there are some of my old friends now! Well, it is time they knew that a change has taken place in my fortunes. Hi, there! Hands up and catch this, and this and this!" he shouted. "But keep quiet about it, or next year you will get peeples again!"

And, flinging quarters right and left, he smiled in such a pompous, self-satisfied way at the burr and scramble which ensued, that it was well worth my journey there just to see this exhibition of combined vanity and good humor.

THIN PEOPLE

want to get fat and fat people want to get thin—human nature. If you are fat don't take Scott's Emulsion. It will make you gain flesh. If you are thin Scott's Emulsion is just what you need. Classer and his turnout pected me to see what went on in the black interior of a house whose exterior is barely discernible at night across the street?

"Then you cannot aid her?" I asked. With a light bound he leaped into the carriage. As he took his seat he politely remarked:

"I should be glad to, since, though not a Moore, she is near enough to the family to affect its honor. But, not having even seen her enter the house, I cannot testify in any way in regard to her. Home, Caesar, and drive quickly. I do not thrive under these evening damps."

And, leaning back with an inexpressible air of contentment with himself, his equipage and the prospect of an indefinite enjoyment of the same, the last representative of the great Moore family was quietly driven away.

CHAPTER XVII.

I MUST admit that it was not entirely owing to disinterested motives that I now took the secret stand I did in Miss Tuttle's favor. I clung to my convictions with an almost insensate persistence, inwardly declaring her the victim of circumstances and hoping against hope that some clever would offer by means of which I might yet prove her so.

Had Mr. Jeffrey's alibi been less complete he could not have stood up against the suspicions which now ran riot. But there was no possibility of shifting the actual crime back to him after the testimony of so frank and trustworthy a man as Tallman. If the stopping of Mrs. Jeffrey's watch fixed the moment of her death as accurately as was supposed—and I never heard the least doubt thrown out in this regard—he could not by any means of transit then known in Washington have reached Waverley avenue in time to fire that shot. The gates of the cemetery were closed at sundown. Sundown took place that night at one minute past 7, and the distance into town is considerable. His alibi could not be gainsaid. So his name failed to be publicly bronched in connection with the shooting, though his influence over Miss Tuttle could not be forgotten, suggesting to some that she had acted as his hand in the deed which robbed him of an undesirable wife. But this I would not believe. I preferred to accept the statement that she had stopped short of the library door in her suspicious visit there and that the ribbon tying, which went for so much, had been done at home.

Finding myself, with every new consideration of the tantalizing subject, deeper and deeper in the quagmire of doubt and uncertainty, I sought enlightenment by making a memorandum of the special points which must have influenced the jury in their verdict, as witness:

First.—The relief shown by Mr. Jeffrey at finding an apparent communication from his wife hinting at suicide.

Second.—The possibility, disclosed by the similarity between the sisters' handwriting, of this same communication being a forged substitute for the one really written by Mrs. Jeffrey.

Third.—The fact that, previous to Mr. Jeffrey's handling of the book in which this communication was said to have been hidden, it had been seen in Miss Tuttle's hands.

WORLD'S FAIR HOTEL ACCOMMODATIONS.

St. Louis Hostels Prepared to Handle Vast Throngs—Prices Not to Be Increased—Hotel Inside of the Exposition Grounds With a Capacity For 6,000 Guests.

Ample hotel accommodations have been provided for the World's Fair visitors at St. Louis both within and outside of the Exposition grounds. The Exposition management has organized a free information service. A pamphlet has been issued for gratuitous circulation explaining many of the conveniences that have been provided. A list of all the hotels, with rates, is contained in this pamphlet. The entire city has been canvassed, and many thousands of private householders have arranged to receive visitors. These houses are in every section of the city, and the rates at which guests will be received is a matter of record on the books of the bureau.

The inside inn, a hotel on the Exposition grounds, has a capacity for 6,000 guests. The Exposition management has control of the rates, which have been fixed at from $1.50 to $3.50 per day, European plan, including admission to the grounds. On the American plan the rates range from $3 to $5 per day. The hotel is 400 by 800 feet and is three stories high.

There are more than 150 established hotels in St. Louis, and a signed agreement has been made between many of their managers with the Exposition officials that rates shall not be raised during the Exposition period. Many new hotels have been built on sites adjacent to the Exposition grounds, and the published fixed rates warrant the assertion that no one need pay exorbitant rates for accommodations either at hotels or private houses.

Among the new hotels may be mentioned the Hotel Napoleon Bonaparte, which stands at Clayton avenue and Skinker road, overlooking the Exposition grounds. This hotel will accommodate 5,000 persons. The rates, European plan, are from $1 to $3 per day. The Grand View hotel, south of the Exposition, on Oakland avenue, has a capacity for 6,000 guests, and the rates are $1 to $1.50 per day, European, and $2 to $2.50 per day on the American plan. The Keallworth, on West Park boulevard and Billon avenue, has a capacity of 1,600 guests, with a rate of $1.50 per day.

The above mentioned are a few of the new hotels that have been erected near the Exposition grounds for the accommodation of World's Fair visitors. All told there are about two score. All are within easy walking distance, and all are situated on high ground, with comprehensive views of the grounds. All of the structures are well built, and in some of them the most luxurious quarters are obtainable. The rates are established and will not be increased during the Exposition.

NEW MUSIC FOR WORLD'S FAIR

Three Compositions by Famous People. Band Tournament.

Musical people and all who appreciate good music may thank the World's Fair for three notable compositions, written upon the invitation of the Exposition management. These are the "Hymn of the West" by the most distinguished living American poet, Edmund Clarence Stedman, the music for which was written by Professor John K. Paine, who is at the head of the music department of Harvard university; "Louisiana," a march by Frank Vanderstucken, leader of the Cincinnati Orchestra; a waltz, "Along the Plaza," by Henry K. Hadley of New York, who has won his laurels long before this as writer of operatic and other musical compositions. This music will be heard publicly for the first time upon the opening of the Exposition on Saturday, April 30, and frequently thereafter in the musical programmes of the greatest of world's fairs. These are the only official compositions.

Thirty thousand dollars will be given in prizes for the best bands at a tournament to be held during the Exposition. All through the World's Fair the musical feature will be prominent. The most famous bands of the world are under contract to participate during considerable periods. Among these are Le Garde Republicaine band of France, the Royal Grenadier band of England, the American National band, Sousa's band and others.

OHIO DEMOCRATS HAVE NO CHOICE

ADOPTS MODIFIED UNIT RULE

State Will Cast Its Forty-six Votes in the National Convention as a Majority of Those Present Shall Decide on Candidate.

Delegates at large—Wm. S. Thomas, John A. McMahon, Charles P. Salen, Edward H. Moore. STATE TICKET. For secretary of state, A. P. Sandies, Ottawa. For judge of supreme court, Philip J. Renner, Cincinnati. For clerk of the supreme court, Peter M. McShaffry, Cambridge. For dairy and food commissioner, Quentin M. Gravitt, Wooster. For member board of public works, William H. Ferguson, Springfield.

Columbus, O., May 26.—The conservative element prevailed throughout in the Democratic state convention here Wednesday. The platform is radical on state issues, but leaves all national questions to the St. Louis convention. Regarding the candidate for the presidency, the convention in a measure, is one the fence, having the following declarations in its platform: "The Ohio delegation is directed to cast the entire forty-six votes in the national convention as the majority of those present and voting shall decide, when such majority shall determine that course to be advisable."

It is claimed by some that this is the unit rule in modified form and it is understood to be such by the influences in control here. Efforts to secure positive instructions for either Parker or Hearst failed. The convention was an excited one at times, and during the fight over seating the 208 contested delegates former Congressman John J. Lentz found an opportunity to start a disturbance and took advantage of it.

Convention Is Unruly.

Lentz addressed the convention in favor of substituting the minority report for the majority report. Col. W. A. Taylor spoke for the majority report, both making severe charges, while the galleries cheered. Several altercations occurred, but order was soon restored by the sergeant at arms. When Col. Taylor concluded there was a disturbance on the platform. Mr. Lentz took exception to what Col. Taylor had said and asked to see papers Col. Taylor held in his hand. Lentz took them. Taylor grabbed them back and a personal encounter in words followed until both men were put down. Lentz and Taylor both passed the "he" repeatedly.

Chairman R. L. Starr of the convention, in his opening address, made an appeal for party harmony, and let loose a torrent of abuse on the Republicans and the present Republican administration. Among other things, Mr. Starr said:

"Where is the Democrat whose cheek has not burned with anger, or whose head has not hung in shame, as he reads, or listens to words of vituperative vilification, libel and slander bandied between warring factions, whether they be of Hearst, Parker, Cleveland, Bryan, or otherwise. Is the mere preference of man a crime? Is it a greater crime for a Democrat to have a preference for Parker, for Hearst, for Cleveland, for Bryan, than it is for United States senators to sell the influence of their office for gain? Or for the administration to suppress the investigation of postoffice scandals, lest it should injure the party, or for the president of the United States to disrupt the republic of Colombia in the interest of the Panama canal grafters?"

All of the conservative contesting delegations were seated, and the committees were in the hands of the same element, so that the Hearst people were not in a position to do much for their candidate. As it is they claim he has an even chance.

Large New Arrival OF Summer Wash Goods.

We have received the past ten days hundreds of New Things in Wash Goods for summer selling.

A 25c fabric which is real new, being a batiste creation with embroidered dots and figures which we show in about 25 styles is called Swiss Faconne.

Another new thing is a sheer open weave with a pretty Persian embroidered stripe which sells under the common name of Canvas Cloth.

At 15c we show a line of fancy cotton stuffs called Knicker Zephyrs and Knicker Suitings. They are just the right materials for light summer wear and are members of the Voile family. They are in nub and snow flake styles, colorings not pronounced but delicate.

At 20c several weaves are shown, such as Etamine, Drape Quilaine, Cotton Voile, &c.

At 50 and 75c there are many beautiful fancies in Grenadine and lacy styles in stripes and checks. Any woman wanting something real swell should see them.

We mention just a few; one could look for hours and not see everything in stock. New things are received frequently to take the place of the thousands of yards that are going out weekly to all parts of Southern Wisconsin.

DEERE TWO ROW CULTIVATORS...

If they do not give you Better Satisfaction than any other we will refund your money. How dare we make such a broad guarantee? Simply on account of the way the Deere is constructed and the record it has made. Light draft, very easily managed, cuts ground up better, great labor saver. In these days of labor scarce and wages high, "labor saver" has much meaning for you.

THE Fence IS PAGE WOVEN WIRE FENCE

Drop in, or wherever you may see it, look it over carefully. We believe you will find that is made in the most practical way—that contraction and expansion are scientifically provided for—that the Wires are just about the right distance apart for the several kinds of farm stock, and that the different sized wires in the fence are arranged according to the force and shocks they will probably have to withstand.

Nearly 20 years' experience has proven pretty conclusively that this particular fence comes nearer being a perfect general farm fence than any other yet produced.

No other company uses Page-Wire. No other company puts an Independent Top on their fence.

No other company has successfully imitated the Page coil.

No other fence will adapt itself to so uneven ground and go up so smoothly.

Deere Cultivators and Page Fences are interesting subjects these days. Come in and we will tell you more about them.
